The Herald's Nashville special says: Election returns come in slowly Every county in Middle and Eastern Tennessee, as har as heard from, has gone Rudleal. Brownlow, probably carries every county except two in West Tennessee, with the property of a least 15,000. Nashville city gives him a majority of a least 15,000. Nashville city gives him 3,000, and Barddoou county over 4,000. The Radical Congressmen are elected. Of the Legislature, twenty out of the twenty-three Hadleals are elected for the Upper House, and all but ten of the eighty-three in the flower House. Returns thus far, midnight, indicate a majority for Brownlow of 25,000, which will be probably increased to 50,000. In Nashville there was a great suspension of business in the streets, except in the immediate vicinity of the polis; almost as quiet as on Sunday. There was no interruption and no disorder. The election to-day dates an epoch in the political bistory of the country.

The Herald's Memphils special says: From other counties in West Tennessee returns are very meagre, Haywood goes Radical, Brownig ville, the county seat, gives Ethridge a majority; Payette county goes strongly Conservative; no returns have been received. Henry county gives a small Conservative majority; protestars have been received. Henry county gives a small Conservative majority; the polis were open in but one preduct. Collinan, Conservative candidate is this city for the Legislature, is defeated by Bider, and Hamilton, Radical, Leftwitch, the Conservative candidate for Congress, is probably elected by a very small majority.

The Herald's Charlswille special says: The election pa-sed off quietly here to-day; at this precinct. Si6 votes were given for the Radical, and 128 for the Conservative licket. Brownlow's the disfrancibled whites a constant of the county is 3,000.
